based on the goals you have identified in step one, determine how your skills and experience support those goals.

Antibiotics and can be useful in treating certain serious diseases, including sepsis and meningitis.